- Add notifications to iOS and Android apps
- Continue development of Drivers app
- Continue development of api including trip creating and notifications
- Add management panel to backend

Our goal here is to continue the progress made in our previous sprints. This includes polishing the design and feel of our iOS and Android apps. Our driver app is lagging a bit so during this sprint our focus will be to bring this up to the needed level. On the backend we hope to start integrating firebase push notifications and add the ability to create trips. Also on the backend we are beginning the development of the management panel starting with the ability to login.
