Sprint 1 Goal

Our goal in sprint 1 is not necessarily to complete user stories we have assigned to our sprint 1 backlog. Our goal is instead to build a foundation upon which we can build out full features. We aim to create django models, url routes, and stub views that allow basic functionality. We plan to model data flow in and out of our system in order to create our django models. It is unlikely that we will complete any user stories in their entirety but we hope to complete some of the story points associated with each story in our sprint 1 backlog.

We hope to achieve this by the 6th of May.